Please check your child's reading logs. They are due EVERY Monday. Check their blue daily folder!

We still need several volunteers for library every other Wednesday!

We made our scholastic goal! Can't wait to see all the great free stuff we get for our classroom. Thanks for your support!

Our classroom website is up and running check it out at :

What We're Learning

Reading: Read to Self, Read to Someone, Writing, Word Work, and Guided Reading Groups with Teacher.

This week I introduced the author Chris Van Allsburg! The kids are really enjoying his books! We will be doing an author study for the next few weeks!

Math: This week we worked on solving word problems!

Writing: We just finished up a persuasive writing project and we are working on writing a piece from the perspective of a drop of water in the water cycle.

Science: In Science we are learning about weather! This week we have focused on the water cycle!

The students read a book from Chris Van Allsburg that had a message about watching less TV. Some of the kids are accepting the challenge to go a whole week without watching TV. Good luck!
